

Corbett's Conundrums

21st February

Choose any four consecutive odd integers.

Find the product of the middle two integers.

Find the product of the smallest and largest integers.

Repeat this for another four sets of integers.

Make a conjecture about your findings and prove it algebraically.

