

Corbett's Conundrums

5th October

What is the maximum number of points of intersection that can be determined by twenty straight lines?

