

Corbett's Conundrums

7th October

Three sides of a rectangle are tangents to a circle.

What is the ratio of the longest side to the shortest side of the rectangle if the area of the rectangle is four times the area of the circle?

